State Officials Investigating the Death of an Incarcerated Individual at Central Utah Correctional Facility

An incarcerated individual at the Central Utah Correctional Facility (CUCF) has died after being found unresponsive in his cell on Sunday, Sept. 24.

The Utah Department of Corrections' Law Enforcement Bureau and the Utah State Bureau of Investigation have responded to the incident and an investigation is underway.

Steven Davis, 66, was found by staff Sunday morning and was declared deceased by responding medical personnel. The cause of death has not been determined at this time.

Davis has been incarcerated since December 1983 for first degree sodomy of a child and parole violations.

CUCF is located in Gunnison, UT and houses approximately 1,760 incarcerated men. The facility is on lockdown during the preliminary investigation with the exception of pre-scheduled visits.
