This publication has been produced by the Utah State Department of Corrections (UDC), Inmate Placement Program (IPP). The booklet contains information regarding UDC's relationship with county jails in the state, how state offenders are placed in jails, and how the state and individual counties benefit from this relationship.

Any questions regarding the information contained in this booklet, UDC or the Inmate Placement Program in general, please contact me at (801) 656-8584.

JAIL PROGRAMS IN UTAH

A State and County Partnership That Works!

IPP Vision:

Inmate Placement Program envisions a culture where we partner with the local Sheriff's Office's, where honor, accountability, and integrity are reflected. In so doing, we foster an environment rich in professionalism, compassion, collaboration, and dedication. Together with the local Sheriff's Office's we are a fair, focused, innovative, and energized team.

IPP Mission:

Inmate Placement Programs dedicated team of professionals ensure public safety by effectively managing contracts and state inmates housed in the county jails. This is accomplished by maintaining a close collaboration with the local Sheriff's Office's. Our team of Inmate Placement Program staff along with the local Sheriff's is devoted to providing maximum opportunities for inmates to make lasting changes through accountability, treatment, education, and positive reinforcement within a safe environment.

Background of Jail Contracting

The Utah Department of Corrections and the 26 counties that operate jails across the State have formed a cooperative relationship serving all the citizens of the State. There have been significant savings through this relationship within their criminal justice systems while improving public safety.

For a number of years, the State prison system has rented county jail beds to house prison overflow. Originally, this was a small-scale operation using temporarily unoccupied beds in the counties. In recent years, counties have built many more beds than they will need in the foreseeable future, so they rent them to the State of Utah.

In 1993, Corrections was contracting for 117 county jail beds. In FY 2023, Corrections determined to house above 1450 at an average of 1572.

Benefits of Jail Contracting

STATE OF UTAH

The State of Utah has realized many benefits from participating in county jail contracting.

- 1) Cost savings for the State are dramatic when you consider the cost if Utah were to build prison space for the currently contracted and funded 1,450 beds.
- 2) By contracting with the counties for prison housing, the need for additional State full time employees is reduced.
- 3) Inmates can be housed in their local areas near families, jobs, and community ties.
- 4) Jail contracting allows the State to provide for inmate protection and house state inmates in smaller, more manageable groupings.

LOCAL COUNTIES

During 2023, 20 of the 26 counties (77%), operating jails in Utah, participated in jail contracting. This is evidence of the benefits realized through this state/local partnership.

- 1) The primary benefit for counties is the infusion of funding to help establish effective jail systems and to expand resources for future local growth.

The cost of jail expansion often is beyond the revenue stream of small counties. Finding ongoing funding sources to help pay off construction bonds is a necessary component of any expansion in jail space. The State of Utah offers a solution by contracting for beds in local jurisdictions. The funds generated by these contracts can then be used to offset the cost of construction.

State inmates housed in county jails also contribute significant labor which helps reduce the costs of operating the county jails. In addition, inmates have assisted in the construction of county jail facilities, saving substantial dollars on jail expansion projects.

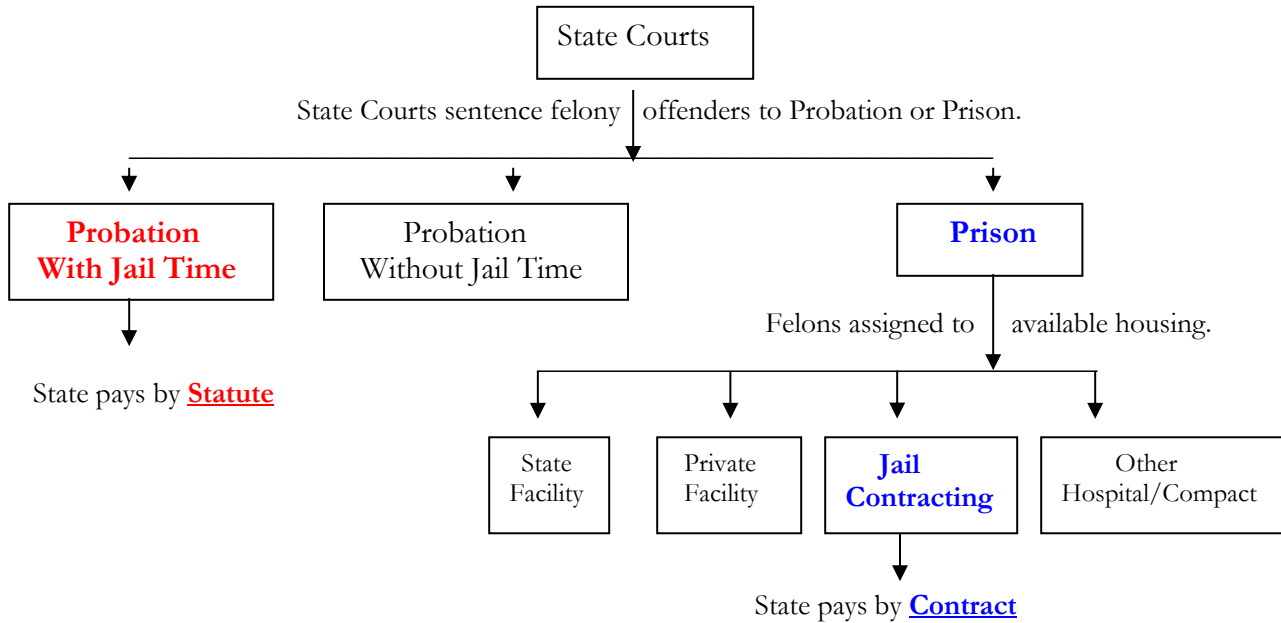

- 2) The overall economy of counties participating in contracting has been improved through the infusion of state funds. In some areas, the county jail has become a significant employer.
- 3) Contract inmates in the county jails provide labor for important community projects, such as repair of county facilities, assistance to the forest service and many community projects.

How do state-sentenced offenders end up in local county jails?

There are several ways that offenders sentenced by state courts end up in local county jails. Below is a diagram that outlines the two major programs under the State's Jail Program System.

Felony Offenders

Sentencing, Condition of Probation, Jail Contract Housing

JAIL CONTRACTING FY23

- Courts sentence to prison, not jail.
- County participation is voluntary and by contract.
- Board of Pardons has jurisdiction of inmate.
- Bed cost is by contract for 71.57% of the actual state daily incarceration rate as approved by the Legislature, 88.53% for Contract Facilities with UDC approved Substance Abuse or Sex Offender Treatment Programs, and 79.52% for Cognitive Behavior/Vocational Training (HB157).
- Medical and transportation costs are Corrections' responsibility.

JAIL CONTRACTING

Offenders who are housed under jail contracting are sentenced to prison by the court. The Department of Corrections refers the offender to a Contracted County Facility. The Contracted County Facility has the authority to approve or deny the referral. If approved the offender is housed in the Contracted County Facility as a state offender. The Department reimburses each Contracted County Facility for housing these offenders as explained in the diagram above.

PROGRAMMING IN THE COUNTY JAILS

Programming/Class statistics are for FY23, not calendar year 2023. Programs/Classes listed are those active in calendar year 2023.

It is the practice of IPP to pay for one program or HB157 class at a time. Many counties allow the inmate to enroll in more than one at a time so the number taking the class and successfully completing can be higher than stats reported for the HB157 class. Most Substance Use or Sex Offender programs combine cognitive behavioral classes with the program.

The statistics reported here are for a Substance Use (to include Pre) or Sex Offender (to include Pre) program or HB157 cognitive behavioral classes or vocational trades in the contract county jails. We do not report the statistics for non HB157 cognitive behavioral classes that are taken and successfully completed while in a program or other HB157 class.

The Contracted County Jails provide a variety of education, programming, classes, and religious services. During FY23 Contract County Facilities assisted 93 state inmates in earning their High School diploma, this includes the HS Completion Diploma aka GED. 38 in Beaver, 7 in Cache, 2 in Davis, 3 in Duchesne, 11 in Garfield, 2 in Kane, 8 in Millard, 7 in San Juan, 3 in Sevier, 1 in Tooele, 8 in Uintah, 1 in Wasatch, and 2 in Washington.

In May of FY23 Pre-Substance Use was introduced in Kane County. No successful completions due to the short time running during FY23.

FY23 successful transitions from Substance Use Programming for state inmates totaled 229. There were 99 in Beaver, 28 in Cache, 36 in Garfield, 27 in Kane, 25 in Millard, and 14 in Tooele.

FY23 state inmates housed in the contract county jails successfully completing Pre-SOTP totals to 93. There were 39 in Kane, 26 in San Juan, and 28 in Sanpete.

FY23 successful transitions from Sex Offender Treatment Programming for state inmates totaled 101. There were 32 in Kane, 33 in San Juan, and 36 in Sanpete.

In March of FY23 PV Living in Balance Program was introduced in Davis County. No successful completions due to the short time running during FY23.

NOTE: As mentioned above Counties with Pre-SATP, SATP, Pre-SOTP, SOTP, and PV Living in Balance programs do not get paid for an inmate participating in a HB157 class at the same time they are in the program. The inmate is enrolled and tracked in the class but not counted as being paid under HB157. Their numbers will be lower for HB157 successful completions. *For instance, MRT, Inside Out Dad, may be included as part of the program curriculum and not counted as a successful completion in these stats for HB157. This should be noted when reviewing HB157 stats. Also, counties with multiple HB157 classes have inmates enrolled in multiple classes at the same time but get paid in just one of the classes, although the inmate does get credit for the class.

Challenge is only offered in two counties. As of November 2021, Tooele no longer has an instructor and IPD does not have anyone to train more instructors. Uintah had 5 successful completions; however, it was not held after October 2022. Information regarding a company that will train facilitators for the Challenge class was emailed to both counties.

Functional Behavior is taught in Cache County only. They had 16 successful completions.

15 counties offer the Inside Out Dad class. The class must have seven to enroll/participate or it is not held. The inmate may only take and successfully complete this class one time. Beaver and Millard did not have any HB157 successful completions, however, inmates take this class with the SUTP program. Successful completions are: 13 in Cache, 8 in Davis, 8 in Garfield, 28 in Kane, 11 in Sanpete, 13 in Sevier, 8 in Summit, 4 in Tooele, and 4 in Washington. There were 97 successful completions for Inside Out Dad.

There were 293 successful completions of MRT. 93 in Beaver, 1 in Box Elder, 31 in Cache, 5 in Davis, 20 in Duchesne, 26 in Garfield, 1 in Grand, (Juab began in May of 2023, but no successful completions due to the short time the class was running.), 20 in Kane, 4 in Sanpete, 22 in Sevier, 15 in Summit, 18 in Uintah, 18 in Wasatch, and 19 in Washington.

Smart Steps is run the same as Inside Out Dad. The class must have seven to enroll/participate or it is not held. The inmate may only take and successfully complete this class one time. 1 in Sanpete, 20 in Tooele, and 17 in Wasatch successful completed.

Two counties have NIC Thinking for a Change. Cache had 9 successful completions. Duchesne also had 18.

Vocational Trades is approved and taught in Duchesne. UBATC had 28 successful completions.

Victim Impact had 5 successful completions. Tooele did not have an instructor the full fiscal year. Uintah had 5 successful completions. IPD was notified training for instructors was needed but there has not been a resolution.

FY23 HB157 classes had a grand total of 509 successful transitions from various counties for various IPD approved Cognitive Behavioral and Vocational Trades classes.

CONTRACT HOUSING

PV intake flips – Allows a parolee who has violated their parole to be housed at the county jail they were booked into and remain there as a state inmate instead of returning to a prison site for housing as long as they are medically cleared, the jail agrees to house them, and the intake paperwork is appropriate for Contract County housing.

PVP – Allows a parolee who has violated their parole to remain housed at the county jail nearest them for a Board ordered stay of up to 30 days.

Research and Planning developed a DBA report to display all inmates housed at a Contract County facility that were on outcount during the past billing month. This report is used to pay the Contract County for the days the state inmate was out of their facility for the billing month. Contract Counties hold the bed for the state inmate to return from outcount. The most common reasons for a state inmate to be on outcount are medical/dental, court, or BOPP hearings.

Beaver County Community Service Projects or Other Savings to Taxpayers:

- State inmate inside jobs - $25,000/year

The Beaver County Correctional Facility continues to be aggressive in their commitment to inmate programming. Inmates are screened upon arrival and offered placement in the Residential Treatment Program as soon as openings occur. Beaver has been able to keep their programming seats full. The Residential Treatment Program was recently expanded to 145 seats to accommodate those that need a longer program. MRT has been integrated into the Residential Treatment Program.

Beaver School District has had a great year and revised their curriculum and was successful in graduating inmates with a high school diploma. Beaver County School District also offers a financial literacy class.

The inmate community work crews continue to provide a valuable resource to the county. The crew is able to offer many man hours of labor at a much more affordable price to the local cities and county. The crew is in demand and receives good feedback from the community.

A music program in which inmates are instructed in music theory and playing guitar is offered at the Beaver County Correctional Facility.

Beaver County Jail offers inmates employment with jobs in the culinary, janitorial, laundry, instructional, painters, and inmate work crews. This work program creates huge savings to the county each year and gives the inmates the tools to become successful upon release.

Life Skills- Thinking for a Change which is a cognitive restructuring class is offered to all inmates with six (6) groups running at a time. MRT is also offered to both SA program participants and non-SA participants.

Volunteers at the facility conduct religious services. LDS Indexing, LDS 12-Step, and AA help inmates at the Beaver County Correctional Facility deal with their needs.

The Cache County Jail continues to provide high school education through the local school district. Inmates may take this opportunity to further their education by obtaining their high school diploma. Administration and staff at Cache County Jail believe education is a key factor for reducing recidivism.

Cache County facilitates Project Reality. This provides inmates with the opportunity to share their experiences and thoughts with high school students, youth programs and court ordered participants.

The Duchesne County Jail continues to provide high school education through the local school district. Inmates may take this opportunity to further their education by obtaining their high school diploma. Many inmates have taken advantage of this program and furthered their education during their incarceration. Administration and staff at Duchesne County Jail believe education is a key factor for reducing recidivism in our county jail.

The Building Trades program offered at the Duchesne County Jail continues to provide inmates with the opportunity to learn viable skills that will serve them well upon release back into the community. These skills are good trade skills that can help them achieve employment when released from the facility. Inmates finishing the Building Trades program receive a certificate in carpentry. This provides the inmate with substantial advantage of gainful employment. The Work Crew program provides the inmates with the ability to work supervised on the outside perimeter of the facility. It also provides increased skills and work ethics returning back into the workforce.

Garfield County Jail continues to progress with their "Dare to SOAR" Substance Abuse Treatment Program and After Care Program. The Jail is looking forward to the addition of a Pre-Substance Use Treatment Program to supplement treatment opportunities available to offenders housed in Garfield County.

The smaller number of residents in the program and the staff involvement make this a very cohesive and successful unit. The inmates feel that they gain a lot from the relaxed atmosphere. The classes are intensive and cover the many facets of addiction, and the road to recovery and success outside prison life.

As always, the education department at the Jail shines. The diligence of the Adult Education Coordinator is apparent in the number of successful graduates. The jail has focused on addiction recovery and a plan to succeed outside the prison walls. The classes and education available are meant to give viable tools for employment upon release and success in personal and family life. The jail has recently added a guitar class, and an arts class that not only provide a positive outlet for offenders to make the best use of their leisure time but will also count towards adult education credits towards electives or arts if progress is being made towards earning a high school diploma.

The road crew and car wash crews are rotated together, the car wash inside and the road crew of four is outside of the facility. Both of these crews, along with the Jail Ink print shop provide offenders with employment opportunities as well as services to the local community.

They have introduced Building Trades where small buildings that can be transported off the facility are being constructed to specific orders. They have a Basic Welding program that teaches a new skill to help with employment as well as a program for Silk Screening and Embroidery to teach new trades and skills also. These various employment and job skills classes are all designed to slow recidivism and help build acceptable lifestyles for those who participate and are released.

Juab County houses up to 15 state inmates on a regular basis. The majority of inmates housed in this jail have established parole dates or are waiting for placement into needed treatment programs offered by the UDC. These inmates are hand selected based on behavioral and offense criteria, as they work in a trustee type position. They are responsible to perform all internal work positions, such as janitor, food service, laundry, and cook. They also grow an impressive garden each year, which is a notable cost reduction for Juab's produce needs.

The inmates at Kane County have the opportunity to complete indexing for the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints. The information they glean goes to Ancestry.com.

Kane County Jail has developed an extensive and well-organized programming department. Kane County Jail is structured in a Therapeutic Community setting. Jail Deputies/Security staff are trained in the (TC) Therapeutic Community Treatment Model; this provides the highest professional standard of maintaining a secure environment and supporting effective therapy. With the TC approach, Deputies working with offenders are better trained and skilled in supporting the overall goal of the program while dealing with this unique population.

The Residential Substance Abuse Treatment

FOCUS:

The goal of the FOCUS Program is to provide offenders with both sex offense and substance abuse issues quality programming, using current evidence based best practices, motivational interviewing and up to date assessment and measurement tools.

The program has another program within titled "Bigger Than Me". The inmates do projects as a service project for others. The inmates have donated crocheted items for the local care center (the biggest request was for a crocheted bag that buttons on the side of a walker so they can take items with them when they go from place to place), they made Valentines cards for a veteran's center that they could send to their loved ones, and they have donated other artwork to the local thrift shop to help them raise money. They have worked on numerous projects benefiting organizations in surrounding states. In some cases, items have even been sent overseas.

Pre-FOCUS:

The pre-program housing unit gets offenders into the routine of programming and starts them on their way with assignments and reading opportunities. This helps the offender utilize the actual programming time more successfully. They have also incorporated several Cognitive Life Skills classes including MRT (Moral Reconciliation Therapy) into the "FOCUS" program.

Sex Offender Pre-Treatment

The goal of the SOTP pre-treatment program is to prepare offenders for placement in the main or core sex offender treatment.

Sex Offender Core Treatment

The goal of the Core SOTP program is to prepare offenders to transition into life on the outside. This program helps to reduce the recidivism rate among offenders.

General Housing

Services provided for all offenders housed at the Kane County Jail include Cognitive Life Skills classes, Education and Leisure/Recreation.

The many facets encompassed in the programming developed at Kane County help offenders prepare for entering sex offender treatment.

San Juan County Jail continues to be very active in programming and educating inmates. The main emphasis continues to be the Sex Offender Treatment Program (SOTP). Currently there are 36 inmates in the Pre-SOTP and SOTP program at all times. The program follows the UDC Sex Offender outline.

Educational classes are offered through the San Juan School District for those needing a high school diploma, or for those students that need to brush-up in certain areas. In addition to the educational classes there are a variety of other classes available in the education center such as computer aided drafting, internal combustion (small engines). The jail has also implemented a musical keyboarding, and guitar class, jail garden project and the LDS Indexing. The jail garden project has been a great success. The crop helps supplement the jail kitchen with fresh vegetables.

San Juan during FY23 did not have an outside work crew program. In January 2024, a work crew security plan was approved for workers in their garden as well as county facilities and property. They have a number of jobs inside working in culinary, laundry, janitorial, sewing and tutoring. The LDS 12 Step program is available, as well as a variety of religious services. The inmates have been given the opportunity to apply their artistic abilities by painting a number of murals on the walls of the jail.

The inmates at the San Juan County Jail spend countless hours and a lot of talent crocheting various projects such as afghans, hats, booties, and stuffed animals, donating them to the local communities, charities, and VA hospitals.

The focus is on those that are required to complete Sex Offender Treatment Program prior to receiving a release date, or to keep an existing release date. There is a total of 32 active treatment seats, and the rest of the beds are used for pre and post treatment.

This program is now going into its fourth year and has been running very well. Sanpete has also expanded in the programming area and now offers Victim Empathy, Anger Management, Thinking Errors, and Relationship Skills that work in harmony within the Sex Offender Program.

Sanpete has also implemented a “good time” credit program for their county offenders to meet the new JRI requirements. This consists of numerous cognitive and life skills-based programs as well as an RSAT and Aftercare RSAT for the graduates.

Sevier County Community Service Projects or Other Savings to Taxpayers:

The jobs the work crews help with are assisting with the local Snow College – Richfield and the Black Hawk Arena. They help set up before and clean up after events, as well as any other projects the college and arena may need assistance with. They also do various town projects such as tree trimming, gutter cleaning, cemetery upkeep etc. It has been a great year for our work crews, we appreciate all they do.

Another highlight of the work crew is when it snows, Sevier County Jail allows elderly citizens that have difficulty in clearing their driveways and sidewalks to call. The work crews are sent to remove their snow. The elderly are very appreciative of this service.

Sevier County Jail still has “A+”, a very successful computer-based program. It allows inmates the ability to earn their High School Diploma or the High School Equivalency by working at their own pace on individual subjects needed for graduation.
